

Microsoft®

United States v. Microsoft: 10 Years Later

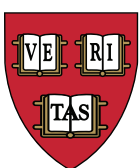

September 12–13th
in Austin Hall
at Harvard Law School

// Featuring key players from the Microsoft case, including David Boies Microsoft General Counsel Brad Smith economists Frank Fisher and Tim Bresnahan computer scientist Ed Felten and journalists Joe Nocera, Rajiv Chandrasekaran and John Wilke

// Ten years have passed since the U.S. Department of Justice and 20 states filed their landmark antitrust case against Microsoft and the trial of the lawsuit began in federal district court in Washington, D.C. This major conference, United States v. Microsoft: 10 Years Later, will look back over the last ten years and explore the lasting lessons and deeper meanings of the case for Microsoft, for the software and technology industries, and for antitrust law and enforcement.

More information and registration at:
<http://cyber.law.harvard.edu>

Questions? Call 617.495.7547

Berkman

The Berkman Center for Internet & Society
at Harvard University