

THE BERKMAN@10 SPEAKER SERIES PRESENTS

LAWRENCE LESSIG

of Stanford Law School and Founder of Creative Commons
BUILDING THE CHANGE CONGRESS MOVEMENT

FRIDAY, APRIL 4
AT 5PM

IN THE AMES COURTROOM OF AUSTIN HALL, HLS

Change Congress is a movement to build support for basic reform in how our government functions. Using technological and internet tools, both candidates and citizens can pledge their support for basic changes to reduce the distorting influence of money in Washington. The Change Congress community will link candidates committed to a reform with volunteers and contributors who support it.

FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

QUESTIONS?
Contact Amar Ashar at ashar@cyber.law.harvard.edu or call 617-495-7547

CHANGE CONGRESS

Photo by Joi Ito
Licensed under Creative Commons

CELEBRATE WITH US

at the Berkman@10 Conference: The Future of the Internet

May 15-16 on the campus of Harvard Law School

Register now at <http://www.berkmanat10.org>

The Berkman Center for Internet & Society at Harvard Law School

celebrating 10 years of exploring cyberspace, sharing in its study, and pioneering its development

WWW.BERKMANAT10.ORG